DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: typo errors, page 2, line 24, "rotary rive" should be "rotary drive"; page 7, line 11, "motor 52" should be "motor 52'" and line 24, "suction head 20" should be "suction head 52"; page 8, line 1, "frame 20" should be "frame 10"; page 10, line 24, "linear guide 100" should be "linear guide 101". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

Claims 1 and 9 are objected to because of the following informalities: typo errors, claim 1, lines 9 and 10, "arm (52)" should be "arm (50)", line 12, "lay-down device (74)" should be "lay-down device (72)", claim 9, lines 3 and 5, "guide (100)" should be "guide (101)". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim 3 recites the broad recitation a deepened point, and the claim also recites a bore which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hashimoto (USPN 5,333,413). Hashimoto discloses an apparatus D for removing semiconductor wafers from within the runner disks 7 in a double-sided polishing machine 1 comprising a suction head 26 adapted to be connected to a vacuum, which has a plurality of suction ports such that all semiconductor wafers received by a runner disk 7 may be gripped simultaneously, an arm 25 on which the suction head 26 is rotatably supported about an axis O and which is pivotally support about a vertical axis z at a spacing from the suction head 26 or is supported so as to be linearly adjustable or adjustable in height, a rotary drive for the suction head 26, a drive for the arm 25, a lift drive for the arm 25, a control device for activating the drives such that the semiconductor wafers may be deposited on a lay-down device 15 in a predetermined, aligned position, wherein the runner disks have a mark, the suction head 26 has a sensor 28 for detecting the mark and the control device while rotating the suction head moves it to a predetermined rotational position relative the runner disk 7 (note Fig. 1 and 3, col. 3, line 20 to col. 5, line 18).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 3 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 4-10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hakomori '490 and '906 and Masumura et al are cited to show apparatus for removing semiconductor wafers from within a runner disks in a double-sided polishing machine.
